reMade and reLive!

Training handbook

This selfmade item called "hangig storage" is perfect for storing your everyday necessities. You can hang it in the closet or next to the bathroom mirror and have all your hairclips or other accessories in your reach.

All you need is:

- Some old shirts or pants
- A sewing needle
- Some sewing thread

Step one:

Lay out the pants neatly on the floor so you can see which part you want to use for your hanging storage.

Step two:

Repeat step one with a shirt you would like to use.

Step three:

To add some more colors choose one more pair of pants and lay them out as well.

Step four:

Take some stripes of cloth or cloth belts and cut them in smaller pieces. These will function as your hanging pieces.

Step five:

First cut a larger piece out of the pants to use it as the background of the hanging storage.

Then cut out pieces out of the shirt or other pant in form of square pockets. These will later be used as the pockets your items will be stored in.

Step 6:

Take the square pockets and put them on the larger background piece. Arrange the pockets as you please. Then sew the edges on to the background piece. Lastly sew three of the cloth stripes on to the top of the background piece and cut a hole in each one of them so you can hang them properly on the wall.

And there you have it: your very own hanging storage made out of your own clothes.
