

Grundtvig Learning Partnerships 2013

Project

Participative Training of Domestic Violence Victims in Textile Rewarding Recycling and Reuse reMade and reLive!

BEST PRACTICES MANUAL

Data about textile rewarding recycling and reuse at local and European level

Partners involved:

- Research Centre of Women's Affairs, Greece
- Bundesverband der Migrantinnen in Deutschland e.V., Germany
- ASSOCIAZIONE IRENE _Iniziative Ricerche Esperienze per una Nuova Europa, Italy
- Moterų informacijos centras, Lithuania
- Federatie van Uit Turkije Afkomstige Vrouwen in Nederland (HTKF), Netherlands
- BUCA EVKA-1 KADIN KÜLTÜR VE DAYANIŞMA DERNEĞİ EVİ, Turkey
- DAY-MER TURKISH & KURDISH COMMUNITY CENTRE, United Kingdom

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction.....	3
Greece .....	4
United Kingdom.....	7
Germany.....	11
Italy .....	20
Netherlands.....	30
Lithuania .....	34
Turkey .....	37

Introduction

As our project aims to empower women's access to employment through textile rewarding recycling crafts, we can summarise ways and practices and different approaches in reused and recycled textile material as the following:

- With the use of some strass, stamps, etc we can add a different style in clothes that are out of fashion to remake them modern
- Even some stained t-shirts with spots that do not come off, can be re- painted and used as new
- We can make gloves, scarfs and wool scarfs from old clothes
- Old fabrics and beads can be used for making of dolls for children or other toys
- Cutting into pieces of old clothes can be used as patches for other textiles creations, etc curtains, tents, blankets, pillows
- Coloured old clothes can be used as decoration for photo albums and books
- Cutting into pieces of old clothes into rectangular squared pieces can be used for wrapping of gifts
- Materials like denim from old jeans , stuff from furniture fabrics, pieces of leather from old clothes and canvas can be used for making of modern bags (shoulders bags, handbags, envelopes, etc)
- Delicate materials like silk, velvet, leather, lace can be combined with silver, ivory and others, to create handmade jewelries like necklaces, bracelets and pericarps, brooches and scarf pins and other accessories' like scarfs and foulards

Greece

Good practices:

1) Hellenic Ethical Eco Friendly Fashion Lab

- Excellent working conditions, ensuring all worker's and employees rights , legitimate wages
- Constant search of ideas and ways of recycling all materials and fabrics, contributing to sustainable development.

reMade and reLive!

- Raw materials are selected which are friendly for both people and environment
- Clothes recycling, clothes from past collections
- Use of stock to create new collections, use of cabbage, odds and ends
- use of low environmental impact materials, eco-friendly material (organic cotton, silk, linen)
- <http://www.heelshop.gr/>

2) Yiuco.com

Electronic Marketplace where one can:

- buy, sell and exchange products that are exclusively coming from recycling, reusing or remanufacturing.
- promote new ideas of upcycling, recycling, reuse

Children's trousers from dad's old sweater

.Purpose

- Reconsider waste.
- Create, design and think of new longer life-lasting products that will be more easily recycled and be used again instead of ending up as waste.
- Remake old stuff to new with one's own means
- Introduce a new line of upcycled or remanufactured products for company's environmental performance

<http://www.yiuco.com/Index.php?Pid=513>

3) Skoros, a give -and-take bazaar

- Give-and-take of objects, knowledge, practices
- Gratuitous bazaar brings a proposal for creative resistance based on exchange, re-use, alteration and many more.
- A give-and-take of things but also a meeting point for exchange of knowledge/ experience/ practices (for example, I offer a hair-cut and you teach me how to knit!)
- <http://skoros.espiv.net/about>

4) Network Fasouli

Network for all .It's one way to get to know and help each other. Each member of the network offers services and products to the others. The offerings are announced on the network through classified ads.

The payment is made in Fasoulia (beans), a virtual currency, that its use is restricted within the network. The difference from normal currency is that the purpose here is not to collect as many Fasoulia as you can but rather trying to get back as many Fasoulia as you have paid around.

Click on the link below, to find all the details about

<http://fasouli.wordpress.com/>

5) www.babyfeat.gr

New service for the reuse of clothes and objects- An eco-friendly and money saving activity
The site is divided to 4 columns in Ads section, where one can find sections Give for free, exchange, sell, create for children www.babyfeat.gr.

6) ANCE: Workshop on reuse of material for the creation of clothes and accessories

The NGO ANCE (Network for the Support of the Less Gifted) and the initiative Athens Recycling Refugee Initiative, with the goal of creative employment and the socialisation of women refugees that live in Greece and to help them in acquiring a minimum wage for their families, organize a first set of workshop entitled “We refashion – We rethink”. Women from Afghanistan, Iran, Algeria, etc learnt with the help of volunteers of ANCE and ARRI (fashion designers, designers of jewelries, artists) how to reuse old fabrics, wire, wood and other recycled material in order to create handmade jewelries and to decorate clothes and accessories

7) A video from a TV show named Etsi Apla ( Simply as That) that gives new ideas for creating things by using recycled material.

This example focuses on how to create a necklace for an old t-shirt. By cutting clothes into stripes or other figures and shapes we can make accessories for hair hairbands, necklaces' or belts

<http://www.alphatv.gr/shows/entertainment/etsiapla/webtv/kolie-apo-t-shirt>

8) Website for On line Shopping <http://shareyourart.gr/>

Creations of all art aspects and trends in one community. An internet gallery with a great collection sorted into categories so you can find what interests you and matches best your taste.

<http://white.shareyourart.gr/erga-moy.html>

United Kingdom

Good practices:

9) Traid-London

<http://www.traid.org.uk>

Traid is a charity organisation, who's main aim is to recycle clothes.

Traid has over 1,500 charity clothes banks, home collections and charity shops in UK. Traid provides free workshops and sewing sessions to people, to give the consumers advice on remaking, recycling and reusing unwanted materials.

Traid has charity shops where recycled and unwanted items are sold to the public at affordable prices.

TRAIDremade makes clothes ethically in the UK. They reuse unwanted textiles including vintage and end rolls to create every piece. The label is produced in our Dalston studio and a small factory in Tottenham, London. Buy online or in-store at TRAIID Dalston and TRAIID Camden

Clothes recycling at a TRAIID charity bank in Tesco, London ©Caroline Purday

TRAIID works with thousands of local authorities, businesses, supermarkets, housing associations and schools to reduce the impact of clothes waste. We provide the resources and logistics to roll out charity-led textile bank coverage and free home collections.

Upcycling Workshops

Got something in your wardrobe that you no longer wear?

Then you can Join the TRAIID team and have a go at up-cycling, learn new sewing and customisation techniques and get practice and advice on how to mend, adjust and improve your clothes.

You can attend their the whole session, or drop in to get advice at Hornchurch Library.

You can take your garment you no longer wear or want to mend and are happy to experiment with. <http://www.traid.org.uk/events/upcycling-workshop-3/>

10) Love me again- Manchester

<http://www.lovemeargain.co.uk>

Love Me Again is an independent fashion label that uses entirely recycled textiles. Based in Bankley Studios in Manchester each design is carefully considered to make the most of the original garment, after a bit of cutting, sewing and love we create affordable clothes each unique from the next.

Some products from Love me again

11) Stitched Up-Manchester

<http://www.stitchedupuk.co.uk>

Stitched Up is a group of creative, passionate, earth conscious fashionista-revolutionaries. Their shared passion for fashion justice brought them together to form an all-women ethically-minded non-profit co-operative on a mission to inspire a more creative and sustainable wardrobe.

Their name reflects the way they feel the fashion industry treats them, its workers and its shoppers. Their workshops, clothes swaps and events encourage people to upcycle, create and stitch - empowering, enlightening and engaging people of all ages and backgrounds.

reMade and reLive!

All Images Copyright Of Stitched Up Co-operative Ltd. not-for-profit company

Workshop Examples. 100% Upcycled L-R: Plastic bottle envelope bangle, plastic bottle trinket box, lid & magazine scrap badges, pringles box & fabric wrapped bangles, loo-roll & fabric wrapped african beads, upcycled paper badges.

Germany

Good practices:

12) One idea two two images

How different can you implement ideas. Here it was to make from old T-shirts a bedcover and a coverlet

<http://www.ideen-kreativ.de/kleidung.html>

13) How to refresh an old coat.

This coat was too short after a hot wash. In this way the sleeves and the seam of the coat were extended.

<http://suschna.wordpress.com/2011/02/06/neues-leben-fur-alte-kleider-im-januar/>

14) How to make a bedcover from Jelly Rolls

15) <http://en.dawanda.com/>

DaWanda is a marketplace where you can buy unique, customized and handmade products made by talented people, and sell your own creations. It also functions as a meeting place for artists, designers and creative individuals, buyers and sellers alike. On DaWanda, you can find out about the creative minds behind the items for sale, compare notes with other members, comment on products, be inspired by great design and share ideas and experiences in the blogs and forum.

reMade and reLive!

Plus on DaWanda you can find a huge selection of handcrafting supplies (fabric, beads, accessories etc.)

Here are some articles:

<http://de.dawanda.com/product/63183135-Patchwork-Tunika-Minikleid-aermellos-Baumwolle>

<http://de.dawanda.com/product/35308421-M-Kleid-Tunika-Sommerkleid-Goa-Boho-Da>

reMade and reLive!

<http://de.dawanda.com/product/22246013-VIVIFROMAGE-lila-Rock-schwarz-gr-SM>

16) Etsy

Is widely known as one of the premier websites for selling arts & crafts online and it is also an online buyer and seller community of strictly hand-crafted or vintage goods like dawanda.com. Many craftsmen choose Etsy as an ecommerce partner because they are small, home-based businesses who need way to sell online. Etsy allows each seller to set-up a customized online "shop" with full ecommerce capabilities by using its simple set-up wizard.

https://www.etsy.com/de/?ref=si\_home

You can buy e.g. these articles:

https://www.etsy.com/de/listing/169372680/handgemachte-schwarze-blumen-streifen?ref=br\_feed\_20&br\_feed\_tlp=women

reMade and reLive!

https://www.etsy.com/de/listing/101154379/schwarze-frau-in-baumwolle-und-korallen?ref=br\_feed\_34&br\_feed\_tlp=women

reMade and reLive!

Proposal of a book that contains creative sewing projects, sources and how to remake and reuse vintage textiles.

More sewing classes are on the book.

http://www.amazon.de/Mach-neu-aus-alt-Accessoires/dp/3841901573/ref=sr\_1\_1?s=books&ie=UTF8&qid=1402047322&sr=1-1&keywords=aus+alt+mach+neu

Italy

Good practices:

17) QUID

QUID is a charity project aiming at recycling clothes and fabrics involving disadvantaged women. This project was born thanks to nine passionate young professionals believing in an ethically-oriented business approach.

Quid is a latin word meaning “something more”, and means that this project has something more to make the difference by establishing a new business model.

The idea is to give new life to leftover materials received from local fashion firms engaging women who experienced difficult situations, such as unemployment and social exclusion. Creating a unique, sustainable and creative product, they offer an opportunity of emancipation and empowerment.

The distinctive feature is to couple ethical and environmental returns, as visually expressed by their logo: the peg. With that, QUID wants to combine social and sustainability aspects with profit-driven features.

QUID handmade t-shirts represent a creative product with a social soul: every detail (the fabric, the decorative motives, the tags) results from the passion of women who find their way out of marginalization.

www.progettoquid.it

18) PROCACCINI QUATTORDICI

The laboratory “Procaccini Quattordici” is an NGO founded with the aim of facilitating the insertion into the labor market of people with mental disabilities who need more than others, to be guided in daily activities.

This laboratory has accepted a big challenge:

“find out and develop the more effective ways to favor the integration of citizens with psychiatric diseases and of all the persons at risk of social margination».

The main projects of this social cooperative are three: a laboratory of tailoring a catering and a painting.

Inside the tailoring are packaged tailored dresses, even wedding dresses, and are carried out repairs or modifications of any kind. From tailoring are born creative initiatives such as Re-dresses, an opportunity to restore an old piece of clothing and see it becoming something new. In the tailoring are also developed various courses of cutting and sewing, for any abilities, from basic to advanced courses.

In the laboratory of tailoring work mainly political refugees involved in the packaging and new creations.

The clothes are very simple in terms of tailoring but focus on the quality of the fabrics chosen individually to create something unique as the people who wear them. Are used leftover of high fashion and recycled industrial materials and this give a touch of sustainable originality.

In the laboratory are experienced the hand and machine sewing , and other techniques to transform your clothes in a creative way, to create new ones, and to produce accessories with recycled materials to raise awareness on environmental sustainability.

www.laboratorioprocaccini.it

The image is a screenshot of the Procaccini Quattordici website. At the top left is the logo, which consists of a grid of squares containing icons of a person, a sewing machine, and a paint palette, with the text "Laboratorio Procaccini Quattordici" to its right. Below the logo is a quote: "» Laboratorio Procaccini Quattordici è una Onlus che da dieci anni lavora a Milano per promuovere l'integrazione sociale dei cittadini attraverso attività finalizzate all'inserimento lavorativo di persone svantaggiate." To the right of the quote is a graphic of several hands of different colors (red, orange, yellow) raised in the air. Below the quote and graphic are three small images: a person preparing food labeled "CATERING", a person sewing labeled "SARTORIA", and a person painting labeled "IMBIANCATURA". At the bottom left is a red button with the text "I nostri Progetti >". At the bottom right is a red box with the date "9/2013" and the text "LA MIA BODÀ COME FACE A ME! Al via i nostri abiti in stile B&W e SUPER ADD. Anche pochi giorni per l'occasione." followed by a double arrow "»".

19) AFOL MODA_higher training centre for fashion

AFOL Moda is a significant public reality for training in Milan fashion area, working simultaneously on project design, products and marketing.

AFOL Moda develops its courses with a specific trainers team made by fashion professionals and experts. This approach refers to a methodology that integrate tradition with innovation, building a learning experience based on practical aspects and offering different stage experiences on the most interesting fashion realities in Lombardy.

- Main training courses
- Project Area
- Fashion design, Digital textile design,
- Product Area

reMade and reLive!

- Moulage, Fashion product&showroom assistant, Fibers, technical and innovative textiles, Tailoring (women's wear, men's wear), Modeling (clothing, underwear),
- Marketing Area
- Fashion visual merchandiser

AFOL Moda has participated in 2012 at Fashion-in Fiber recovery, Fashion-in third edition, a project related with ethic, learning and culture. This project is focused on raw materials and creativity in connection with the future event of Expo 2015.

Every year, dealing with different materials and managing specific training activities about them, the project develops itself through an exhibition.

AFOL Moda, together with other Italian fashion schools, had involved its students in the creation of clothes and fashion accessories using recycling fibers and looking for new style and design codex. All the products realized by the students where shown in the exhibition at Milano's Triennale.

20) ECOLOGINA

Eco-friendly and sustainable fashion based on 100 % recycled creations, realized by saving fabric leftovers from textile companies and transforming them into sophisticated and colourful clothes.

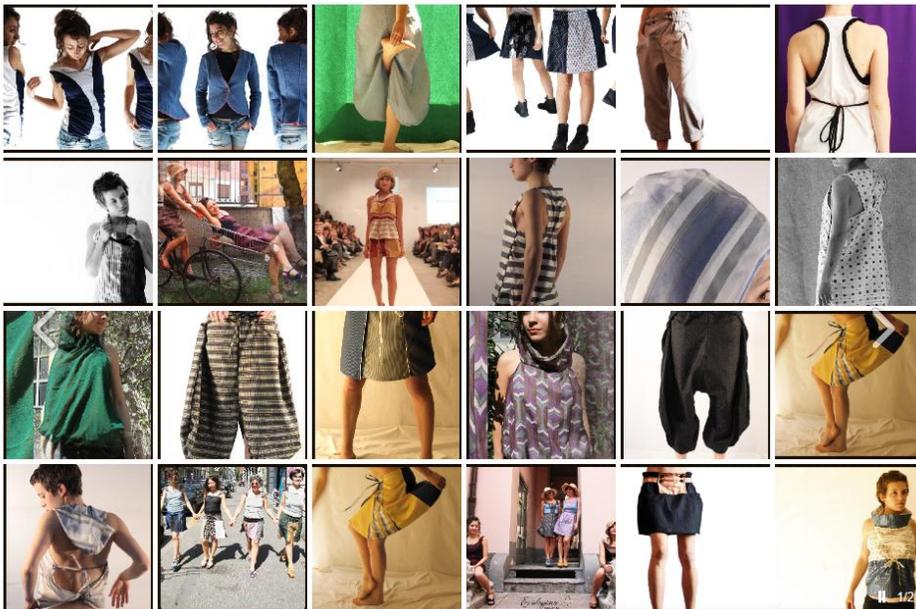

Recycling is considered as a solution for the environmental issues: giving a second life to clothes, a big amount of textiles is saved from landfills. Recycling means also pollute less as possible, saving energies and reducing environmental impacts.

reMade and reLive!

Ecologina returns dignity and life to fabrics that are just about to die in polluting incinerators or in overflowing landfills.

These fabrics give an added value to every Ecologina's piece; ethic qualities enrich the aesthetic pleasure and overcome the idea of a superficial-frivolous, free of essence fashion, and it's strictly made in Italy!

www.ecologina.it

21) 5 MIEKO ECO-BIJOUX

MIEKO originates from more than 40 years of experience in handling paper and other natural materials.

MIEKO blends two souls of the project: Milan and EKology.

The care for environmental impact is the key in choosing products and processes.

Natural raw matters are handled in respect of environment and of who will wear/own them.

Often recycled or reused object such as comics, yellow pages, navigation maps, old designer wristwatches are born to new life in sophisticated creations blending them with precious stones, nacre, noble metals, dressy leathers.

Design and manufacture are proudly Italian, respecting Milan, international fashion capital.

Careful and hand-crafted manufacture of the few works of art made, assures quality, originality and exclusivity

www.mieko.it

22) 6 SWAP BOUTIQUE

The swap boutique was born to overcome the economic crisis and avoid wastage. It's social, eco-sustainable and glam.

It's a shop where you don't buy, just exchange clothes, accessories and, in some cases, even books and music. They are boutiques of luxury recycling where you barter objects and clothes that are no longer used: bags, clothes, shoes, accessories.

The only requirement is that everything that is exchanged must be strictly in excellent conditions and top-quality, not necessarily signed but vintage. Better if rare, almost unique. In the swap shops in fact you will not find mass-produced or bad-quality clothes, but only carefully selected and researched items.

What you find in the swap-point: high quality and excellent workmanship items for a shopping that creates ideas, imagination, inspiration and originality, using the simplest and oldest commercial formula: barter.

How swapping works?

The customer comes into the store with clothes, bags or belts that doesn't use. The staff of the boutique selects the clothing and, after checking the quality of fabrics and leathers, assigns a score or a category depending on the quality: medium, high, very high. At that point, the store charges a fee to be paid by the customer to offset the cost of service: in fact every item needs to be brought to the dry cleaner and sterilized. In addition, there are staff costs and operating expenses to be incurred for the asset (rent of the premises, staff training, etc. ..). Once you pay the fee, the customer can choose another item of the same category to barter with his item. It's allowed swapping at the same level, but it's absolutely forbidden to sell.

The advantages?

You can take away original tailoring clothes and unique items (eg, realized for weddings or special occasions) deemed most suitable to your tastes or needs, paying only the cost of the service required by the boutique.

<http://www.atelierdelriciclo.org>

Social promotion Association founded by creatives in the name of eco-consumption of quality. The Atelier is a great community and a laboratory of ideas for they recovering and Up-cycling of materials and objects in the name of fashion, art and design.

<https://www.facebook.com/iloveshoppingbologna>

Swap Boutique

Also Social!

<http://www.swapclub.it/>

Swap Club Italia is the social community where you exchange clothes and accessories such as bags, shoes and belts . To exchange you must be registered in.

Netherlands

Good practices:

23) Kringloopcentrum Amersfoort – Leusden

<http://www.kringloopamersfoortleusden.nl/ekstertas/textielatelier/>

The goals of this organization are:

- To promote the reuse of the products commodities
- To promoting the employment of woman and Youths'
- promoting environmental protection

A Special car to promote recycle: The Kringloopcentrum Amersfoort-Leusden offers to pick up old textile and other products for recycle whit their own car to make the partners easy to give old products.

Kringloop means: recycle

De Ekstertassen, The Magpie bags, are special bags they make to promote to not to use plastic bags, because the plastic is bad for the environment.

Fashion Show by the learners:

They organized in 2012 a fashion show and the models were the workers of de textile recycle. See for this fashion show the film: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VWke\_lZdsyI
They also organize shopping days and workshops for new learners.

Sally Pittman, an famous artist is helping this project to inspire the learners. For Sally Pittman see: link: <http://www.sallypittman.nl/>

Kringloopcentrum Amersfoort-Leusden:

24) TRD Method: sorting & recycling in the city Dordrecht

<http://www.trdtextile.com/>

TRD is active in the international market with its specialism: recycling of used textile, that collected from different countries in Europe transform in a new lease of life. It is sorted into five high-grade product categories and shipped to customers on different continents.

Factory:

The storage, transshipment and sorting warehouse, which is centrally located in Dordrecht on a 7-hectare site, is modern equipped and offers the ideal environment for an effective and efficient production process. Specialist equipment is used to supply good quality products and work efficiently. This enables us to sort around 150 tonnes of clothing every week. Through this method of working we have become one of the largest companies in our sector. The warehouse is favourably located near the ports of Rotterdam and Antwerp, and the nearby motorways offer good access to Germany and France. This allows us to respond quickly to our customers' needs.

The website of this factory is also in English.

25) Smockwerk

<http://www.smockwerk.wordpress.com> <https://www.facebook.com/Smockwerk/info>

Smockwerk is a very special workplace in Amsterdam, that supported by the local government of Amsterdam. It's established by 3 women, who are designers and artists.

Their goal is to make people be ware about the beginning of the product until the result. It's also important to learn to change old product and to change your live. Whit changing your live, they mean: to be financially independent by making things and to sell these product.

In this atelier they teach women to recycle textile. The participants also leering recycle technics, getting sewing lessons, painting textile and printing of motives.

Lithuania

Good practices:

26) Resurrected to new life

Recycling - the ultimate way to re-use what we put into the household waste. Sometimes we are so creative that our masterpieces get attention in social networks and communities around us. Lets take a small tour on Lithuanian eco-design examples discovered via internet by Women's Issues Information Center's team.

We can see that recycling art varies by the materials used and products produced. Most of the products are born for the new life, turn into art or new piece in our wardrobes. We try to focus on art pieces produced from recycled fabrics although everything can be used.

27) Tree sweaters

15 trees in northern town of Silute will never be cold in winter. This idea was born somewhere in Holland. It took 10 years for creative women to make it happen in a small city center. Few such tree sweaters you can also find in capital Vilnius all year round. Welcome to visit us!

>>Source

28) Finger Theater at home

Guess who are those cute actors? Fox, cat and rooster are hand made for home finger theater. All materials are reused!

29) Stories of things

Women issues information center once per 16 days campaign against violence against women used bunch of old dresses. These dresses became very special as each of them told us a personal story of a girl that once had experience violence from her closest ones. Those stories are sad but make women empowered to become brave, to speak out and coup with negative experience. Story of a dress turned into dual language exhibition and still travels across Lithuania touching the hearts and promotes Life free of violence.

30) EU award winning ideas at A world you like. With a climate you like

The European Commission's campaign to promote practical, innovative and cost-efficient solutions to climate change.

Lithuanian designer wins EU competition in 2013. EU Commissioner for climate policy Connie Hedegaard said after the award to Different design studio:

"Absurd ideas" shows that all Europeans can contribute to climate protection with simple actions, which even saves money and improves our quality of life.

Design studio "Absurd ideas" reuse different objects second time, and turns them into jewelry, furniture and clothing accessories. The studio is also engaged in training activities, organizes educational workshops on environmental issues and eco-friendly products and lifestyles. 269 projects were accepted and entered into the Challenge for the public to vote on. Jurgita filed the application last minute.

Different design studio
"Absurd ideas"
(Lithuania)

This design studio creates and designs items for production from secondary raw materials, and initiates educational activities such as workshops on organic production and lifestyle. Not only using recycled materials, the project adds value to these materials, creating lighting products from metal hangers or PET containers. Attendees at the studio's creative workshops not only learn to make a lamp cover out of waste, but also develop greater environmental awareness.

The diagram shows a sequence of items: a pair of blue jeans, a grey t-shirt, and a grey jacket. Arrows point from these items to a blue bag, a pair of grey shoes, and a grey hat. The website address www.absurdoidejos.lt is at the bottom.

. @grynas.lt

>>Source

http://ec.europa.eu/clima/publications/docs/campaign\_desktop.pdf

Turkey

Good practices:

Recycling in Turkey only concerns remaining pieces of clothing and is usually made of fluff. Textile recycling is not so much in fashion and popular. Below you can find three examples of companies engaged in recycling.

31) Kartal Municipality: Istanbul Kartal Municipality:

Through this recycling, manufacturers promote textile waste control. Instead of throwing away their trash, they encourage recycling. They raise awareness about the proper use of resources in a sustainable world. In Turkey, every year about 750 thousand tons of textile waste emerges. This is approximately the size of a football field in an area of 600 thousand cotton produced equivalent. Jobs are being created, especially for young people and women.

www.kartal-bld.gov.tr/tr/haberler/Habergosteyr.aspx?id=1779

<http://www.kartal-bld.gov.tr/tr/haberler/Habergoster.aspx?id=1779>

32) Fashion Kido H&M Conscious

www.fashionkido.com/2013/03/15/bilincli-olmak-cok-moda-hm-conscious/

H&M Conscious H&M Türkiye

A Conscious Collection from recycled fabric therefore an environmentally friendly collection of tunes.

This recycling also provides contribution to sustainable fashion you can step behalf.

To contribute İstinye Park and the Marmara Forum in Istanbul and Ankara in Cepa H&M

Yet only those stores can be textile products, but over time will become even more widespread.

reMade and reLive!

Ready-made clothing giant H&M consumers are using older or began to collect for recycling textiles. Accepted practice for each brand clothes

Meanwhile, H&M efforts for sustainable fashion does not leave one unrewarded and a £ 5 discount voucher is given as a gift for each bag of clothes that one brings.

33) Mersin University texiline and fashion design

<http://yeniweb.mersin.edu.tr/haberler/atiktan-defileye-bir-donusum-hikayesi>

Interest for textile recycling, is increasing every day especially within universities which have an intensive study.

Mersin's University students, through fashion design transform the waste they collect. A lot of fashion design students in Mersin atıksal collect materials for recycling and aim to increase environmental awareness.

Mersin University students have exhibited porcelain pieces, coke cans, fishing net, 22 self-made costumes produced of contaminated materials and waste materials

Many students wore their own costumes

http://www.turkhabernet.com/tr2008/haber\_detay.asp?haber\_id=14362

34) Çöp(m) adam

<http://www.copmadam.com/tr>

OBJECTIVES:

The project aims to

- eliminate poverty, by supporting women in production, in order to gain self-confidence but also to protect the environment.
- create opportunities for women to earn money.
- issues of women empowerment and waste reduction are promoted and highlighted.
- support women to improve the quality of their lives, while the time spent in activities regarding recycling products is time of leissure and includes having fun
- to collect waste materials and products, like in many trainging schools including Sabanci University
- create opportunities for women, who haven't the chance before to earn money on their reMade and reLive!

own

All material used is recycled material (except thread and zipper)

Email: info@copmadam.com

reMade and reLive!

Sales of points on

Follow the link below DVD

www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player\_embedded&v=

reMade and reLive!

<http://www.kadinlarkulubu.com/showthread.php?t=444133>